Introduction

As a requirement to receive this funding the Washington County Engineer's Office must adhere to Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Specifically, Title VI provides: "No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance." (42 USC 2000d)

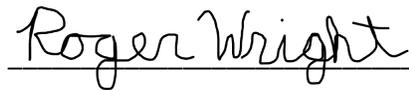

In addition to adhering to Title VI, our agency complies with other related nondiscrimination statutes in the delivery of our programs and services that provide protections based on disability, age, sex, and low-income status.

Data Collection and Analysis

The Washington County Engineer's Office has developed procedures for collecting and analyzing data of the participants and beneficiaries of our programs and services we provide. We review this data to identify any indicators of potential discrimination whether intentional or a result of disparate impact. The Washington County Engineer's Office utilizes U.S. Census data, community surveys as needed for specific projects, and public meetings to collect demographic, socio-economic data, languages spoken, age distribution, and any other relevant project data. Once this data is collected it is compared to a variety of factors, such as Ohio's median household income, to determine eligibility for particular programs and / or the need for assistance. Analysis of the current United States Census Bureau Quick Facts, see Appendix C, has not identified any indicators of potential discrimination with current programs and practices.

Public Involvement and Language Assistance

It is necessary to establish a public involvement plan that demonstrates how the Washington County Engineer's Office engages with minority and the LEP populations. Our public involvement plan includes the following:

The Washington County Engineer's Office public engagement and outreach efforts are as follows:

- Public Meetings are held at or near the project location to facilitate involvement of those directly impacted while ensuring the meeting location is geographically and structurally accessible to all
- Creating a project specific webpage and posting all notices and project specific items on this webpage
- Visit the Township Trustee meeting in which the project site is located and providing project information to this specific township to share with others as requested

Limited English Proficiency (LEP)

On August 11, 2000, President Clinton signed Executive Order 13166, entitled 'Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency.' The Executive Order requires Federal agencies to examine the services they provide, identify any need for services to those with limited English proficiency (LEP), and develop and implement a system to provide those services so LEP persons can have meaningful access to them. This order applies to all state and local agencies which receive federal funds. The guidance of this order outlines the following four factors to conduct an LEP assessment.

- 1) Determine the number or proportion of LEP persons served or likely to be encountered in the eligible service population
- 2) Assess the frequency with which LEP individuals come in contact with your programs, activities or services
- 3) Consider the nature and importance of the programs, activities or services provided
- 4) Evaluate the resources available and associated costs of providing interpretation and translation services

Summary of the Four Factor Analysis

The Washington County Engineer's Office has determined that the language(s) other than English that is/are most likely to be encountered by employees of the Washington County Engineer's Office is/are Spanish. The methodology used to make this determination is as follows: use of the U.S. Census Bureau data for Washington County, Ohio, see Appendix C. The current data indicates a 1.2% Hispanic or Latino origin for the population of Washington County, the highest percentage amount amongst the Race and Hispanic Origin categories.

The Washington County Engineer's Office would provide translated vital documents and interpretation services to any LEP group that comprises approximately 100 or less low-income single language minority households. For the purpose of the LEP Plan a low-income household refers to a household at or below 125% of the poverty level. In review of the U.S. Census data the Washington County Engineer's Office is not likely to impact or serve an LEP population with its specific programs and services. A request for language assistance services has not been received by the Title VI coordinator in the twenty years served with the Washington County Engineer's Office. Based on current census data stated above, it has been assessed that rarely would the Washington County Engineer's Office come into contact with LEP individuals with our current programs.

The programs, activities, and services provided by the Washington County Engineer's Office are critical components of the transportation infrastructure for the population of Washington County which lives and works outside cities or other incorporated municipalities in the county. In consideration of that importance, the Title VI Coordinator, with assistance of office staff, assess the frequency with which LEP individuals contact the Washington County Engineer's Office. Any request for LEP assistance is tracked and reported to the Title VI coordinator, and reviewed annually. In addition, the Washington County Engineer's Office participates in the ODOT Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Program in accordance with all ODOT requirements when utilizing federal funding. When utilizing local funding the Washington County Engineer's Office has historically interacted and contracted with small business and ODOT minority contractors.

The Washington County Engineer's Office will periodically monitor the LEP population of those served or those who could be served by the Washington County Engineer's Office. In particular updated U.S. Census Bureau data for Washington County will be analyzed as it is released. If it is determined that other LEP language groups are seeking services or are potentially eligible to receive services provided by the Washington County Engineer's Office, the Engineer's Office will adjust its methods and services to serve the new population accordingly. Any new LEP populations will be reflected in the next LEP plan.

The Washington County Engineer's Office, at no cost to the LEP individuals or families, will provide interpreter services to all LEP individuals or families applying for, participating in programs, or receiving services through the Washington County Engineer's Office by a verbal agreement with the Modern Language Department at Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio. This agreement was made with the understanding that the College would provide the Engineer's Office with interpreter services on an "as needed basis". The Washington County Engineer's Office will contact the Modern Language Department in order to obtain the name and contact information for the needed language in the event that we would require the use of the interpreter services. Marietta College is able to provide interpreter services for the following languages: Spanish, Chinese, and Portuguese. In the event that the Washington County Engineer's Office would require an interpreter for a language other than those listed and provided by Marietta College, the Washington County Engineer's Office would contact Language Line Solutions, Teleinterpreters at 1-800-752-6096 for immediate interpretations via the phone.

The Washington County Engineer's Office addresses phone calls and voice mail by LEP individuals in the following manner. Marietta College would be contacted for the use of providing interpretation services by phone which would be done via a conference call if possible.

About datasets used in this table

Value Notes

▲ Estimates are not comparable to other geographic levels due to methodology differences that may exist between different data sources.

Some estimates presented here come from sample data, and thus have sampling errors that may render some apparent differences between geographies statistically indistinguishable. Click the Quick Info ⓘ icon to the row in TABLE view to learn about sampling error.

The vintage year (e.g., V2019) refers to the final year of the series (2010 thru 2019). Different vintage years of estimates are not comparable.

Fact Notes

- (c) Economic Census - Puerto Rico data are not comparable to U.S. Economic Census data

- D Suppressed to avoid disclosure of confidential information
- N Data for this geographic area cannot be displayed because the number of sample cases is too small.
- FN Footnote on this item in place of data
